

Martin Luther King Regional Shoreline Tidal Wetland Restoration Field Trip

Sponsored by:

San Francisco Bay and Elkhorn Slough
National Estuarine Research Reserves
Save the Bay
Wetland and Water Resources, Incorporated

December 5, 2006

AGENDA

10:00

Welcome

Sarah Davies, Education Coordinator, San Fran. Bay NERR

Introductions

Moderated by Grey Hayes, CTP Coordinator, ESNERR

Restoration goals & how monitoring helps to achieve them

Jody Zaitlin, retired, Port of Oakland

Marilyn Latta, Habitat Restoration Manager, Save the Bay

Stuart Siegel, Wetland and Water Resources, Inc.

Jen Feinberg, San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission

Noon

Lunch

Kingfisher Picnic Area

Provided by San Francisco Bay National Estuarine Research Reserve

Seasonal pond creation: design and outcomes

Stuart Siegel, Wetland and Water Resources, Inc.

Joe Martinez, Park Ranger, East Bay Regional Park District

The role of transition zones for rare species and uncommon habitats

Marilyn Latta, Habitat Restoration Manager, Save the Bay

Theresa Galvin, Restoration Projects Manager, Save the Bay

Public access & community involvement in tidal wetland restoration

Marilyn Latta, Habitat Restoration Manager, Save the Bay

Final discussion

Moderated by Grey Hayes, Elkhorn Slough Coastal Training Program

Next steps for tidal wetland restoration training

Sarah Davies, Education Coordinator, San Fran. Bay NERR

3:00

Farewell, program ends